is in the row of six along the northern edge of the Standard Marble lease. These wells are the most southerly in the southwestern extension. In view of the splendid production on the Marble fee property and the Petroleum Securities Marble lease, these Standard wells are being watched closely. Their yield will have much to do with future development further south. Marble Lease Nos. 1 and 2 are being reamed.

Chancellor-Canfield's Kettler 8 and 9 are waiting for a water shut-off test.

Torrance 36 of the Santa Fe is near the production stage. The hole was drilled to 3725 feet. The well offsets the Petroleum Securities Marble lease.

Standard has cemented Marble Fee No. 5 at 3396 feet and has staked out a location for Marble Fee No. 14 to offset the new derrick of the Fullerton Oil company on the latter's 40-acre lease west of the Standard fee property in the southwestern extension.

Oil string is being run by the Van Allen syndicate in its well at Palm and Narbonne on the property formerly under lease to the Petroleum corporation.

The International Oil company has cemented its well on East Acacia street at 3605 feet.

ONE MAN AND HIS TOWN

A man by himself is just—one man. Multiply him by hundreds or thousands or millions and he becomes a town or city or nation.

If he "gets on in the world," so will dozens or hundreds or thousands of his associates. If he fails, so will a greater or less number of others—for no one man can affect only himself by his actions.

THE WINCHESTER STORE

OH, BOY!

One of our readers thinks this is the best dinner story he ever heard:

A club was giving a banquet in honor of a prominent politician who had just returned home from a term in the foreign diplomatic service. There were half a dozen or more speeches of welcome and they were all more than usually dry and boring. Wine flowed freely around the table and several of those present sought succor from the speeches in their wine. By the time the program got down to where the returned hero was to speak, a dozen or more of the banqueters were considerably in their cups.

The honored guest arose to speak, and was greeted with a cheer that shook the room. Some way or other, after that cheer, he never could get some of the guests quieted down again. A half dozen or so of them insisted on talking loudly among themselves. The speaker could scarcely make himself heard. All at once one man, who had had more than enough to drink and had fallen asleep, began to snore loudly. There were laughs, and the speaker looked greatly annoyed. Reaching for his gavel, the toastmaster rapped upon the table for some semblance of order. But in his enthusiasm he rapped, entirely too hard and the gavel broke in two. One piece bounced across the table and struck the sleeping member squarely on the head. He roused a bit, looked about him, and then shouted: "Hit me again! I can still hear him!"

NAMES IS NAMES

Henry Sullivan, the famous swimmer, told this not long ago: "Of course," he said, "you've heard of the little girl's Teddy bear 'Gladly,' that she named from the hymn 'Gladly, my cross-eyed bear.' " "There was once a colored man who had a coon dog named 'Moreover.' " "Queer name, that, for a dog," a gentleman said. "Where did you get the name from, Cajus?" "Moreover am a Biblical name, sah, 'Cajus,' the owner of the dog, explained. " "Yes?" said the gentleman. "How so?" "Don't you remember, sah," said the colored man, "whar de Good Book says: "'Moreover the dog came and licked his wounds?'"
